1. At the request of the local Communist Party Executive Committee, the Bangkok Central Labor Union (CLU) met to discuss means of stopping Thai Government support of South Korea. If it is deemed necessary, the Rice Mill Workers and the Harbor Workers may strike in order to halt rice shipments to South Korea. However, there are some indications that rank and file union members are prone to regard Korea as an external problem and prefer not to interfere.
2. The Soviet Legation in Bangkok is keenly interested in Thai opinion concerning the Korean situation. Igor Usachev, Charge d'Affaires at the Soviet Legation, is elated because eight Bangkok papers are opposing the Thai Government's support of South Korea. The Legation is forwarding a report on Thai public opinion to Moscow.
